"Our Day."

OCTOBER 18th, 1917

A Message From His Honour the Lieut.-Governor, Vice-Patron of the Canadian Red Cross Society:
People of Alberta, once again the British Red Cross Society have appealed to us for help.

Not alone are the needs of our sick, wounded, and imprisoned soldiers and sailors to be attended to, but also those of our less fortunate Allies, Belgium, and Serbia. These numerous calls for assistance have seriously depleted the funds of the Parent Society.

The failure to obtain a liberal response to the Red Cross appeal will necessitate the restriction and curtailment of the Society's operations at the time when the needs of suffering humanity are much greater than at any previous period of the war.

Can we, for very humanity's sake, have the Red Cross work hampered for the lack of funds?

Anxiously Great Britain is awaiting for the answer to this call, waiting for October 18th, when in every corner of the Empire her sons will send their ringing answer back across the seas. What will the answer be of Canada—Canada who has already shown her interpretation of the glory of British citizenship? What will be the answer of Alberta? What, indeed, will be the answer of your community?

People of Alberta, do your best for "OUR DAY."

A Double Theft. Auto Accident.

Guinar Strauss was brought before Police-magistrate Brown on Saturday last charged with the theft of an automobile. He had also, it appears, been successful in abstracting the affections of another man's wife in the district, and thereto he may ascribe his downfall. From the evidence taken it would seem that the automobile was left standing by Earle Thompson outside the Oddfellows' Hall. The accused seized the car and got away unperceived. After driving a short distance into the country he picked up the lady and then headed for the international boundary line. Unexpected trouble on the part of the automobile, however, changed their plans, and leaving the car standing out near the schoolhouse they walked into town and caught the midnight train for the west.

By this time the disappearance of the car had been noted, as also had that of the man and woman from their usual places of abode, the wires were set in motion and telegrams despatched eventually brought the news that they had been located at Macleod, from whence they returned to Bow Island in charge of the Provincial police. The man for stealing the auto was sentenced to six months, while the woman was admonished and let out on suspended sentence.

What the Hen Can Do in Wartime

How to Mobilize the Poultry Industry for Increased Production

One poultry industry leader has been mobilized to help meet war food conditions. It takes three years to grow a steer. A six pound chicken can be produced in six to eight months. Taking as a basis the enormous demand for poultry products during the war and for many months after, it is not surprising that there will be a shortage of poultry products. A part of this demand should be supplied in the form of market poultry.

Every farm flock represents a small unit of the meat and egg producing industry. There are the complex thousands—yes, tens of thousands—of small city and suburban flocks that will play an important part in the new order of things.

Now may these various flocks be mobilized and to what extent can production be increased without working harm to the industry as a whole?

It is my opinion that production will equal demand if every poultry raiser, large and small, will follow the late hatching, raise a few more market flocks by more efficient management of the flock as a whole, correct management in the winter, increase poultry products at least one-tenth over our present yields without the addition of a single extra pound of feed and I believe the same principle would hold good in the form of farm activity.

The line of least resistance in increasing production is the efficient management of our present resources. Such a program maintains the entire field of poultry activities, but in this instance we are concentrating on that which has passed her maximum producing period.

One of the best sources of five-year old hen has passed her prime of active usefulness and must make room for younger birds. The vigorous bird, the old hen will lay a few eggs, but she is a source of the egg production of poultry and of three-year-old birds, a decrease of more than thirty per cent.

The flocking of birds in the winter and sent to market. This will help the meat supply and at the same time make room for more efficient producers.

Another long end of great importance is haphazard feeding. This is especially true of farm flocks. Some unexplained reason are supposed to find most of the food they require for maintenance and laying outside of the farm. This plan is all right for a few months, but when the birds are given free range, but during the fall, the birds are spring the grain must be supplemented by other feeds to insure maximum production.

The one essential supplementary feed for these reasons is the grain. In the form of supplemental feed, grain milk, but in the form of feed, grain is indispensable in the winter.

On grain alone and other which are of animal protein. It is marked that no argument should be necessary to insure the change. One must hardly date to estimate the probable increase in egg production and meat feeding could be eliminated from every poultry yard in the country.

The housing of the flock must also receive consideration. There is such a wealth of free information which constitutes good quarters for the birds that we cannot do justice on this point. In many cases a little remodeling of the quarters and the capacity of the buildings and eliminate many undesirable features which heretofore have prevented maximum production.

The final consideration is sanitation, with especial reference to lice and mites. Indifference to the cleanliness of these vermin in the poultry yard probably costs the producer reduced production and mortality hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. The greater part of this can be stopped if we will make use of the means at our command. The regular use of commercial and household life powders and other solutions will soon result in vermin-free quarters.

The strongest argument in favor of the immediate adoption of this efficiency plan is the fact that no money is required to put it into action. All detailed information on the questions can be produced free of cost from the department of agriculture, and the participants are assured of greater returns than would be possible with the practice of inefficient methods. Even in the absence of increased profits we can see the program as a matter of patriotic duty.

Just how much we should increase the size of our flocks at this time is a debatable question. With the undeniable shortage in the wheat crop to be harvested, distributed to other staple grains, such as corn and many other crops, it is not surprising that we should be inclined to increase our material increase.

A good and sure way to boost the available numbers of layers and market birds will be to increase the number of poultry breeders who can do so to two or three extra hens per acre. The machinery of eggs extra after normal demands have been met. I refer to late hatching during July and possibly the early part of August since the normal hatching breeding season is almost over for this present year. This time of year is the best time to put in the fall, with the idea of utilizing most of this stock for fall purposes.

From twenty-five to one hundred chicks are hatched by every good grower during September or early October, they will be ready to lay large by the time cold weather comes to escape any setback which is desirable to carry them over for a few months. Such a plan if consistently carried out, distributes the increased production over such a wide period of time that it will not be felt by the individual, though it will

But we find them assembled together again, one old evening in the city and suburban flocks, they had been so busy with their respective jobs that they had not had time to talk serious.

War emergency measures call for the utmost production from every given unit. Under our old rules, from three and a half to four square feet of floor space is allowed to each layer. Our suggestion would be the addition of a few extra pounds to every flock next fall. To meet the situation without added expense we can afford to cut down the floor space of each flock to two and a half to two and a half to three square feet, and to have half to three square feet of floor space to each layer.

The Talking Coconut

Heard of the Philippines Had Never

While in the government employ in the Philippines, reports Sanford Jones in a review of trade conditions in the Orient, published by the Society for Electrical Development, "I was stationed on the island of Palawan, which is a small island in the South Archipelago. The natives of this island were so uncivilized that they did not even know the value of money, and, of course, had never heard of a telephone.

"We frequently had them entertain us with their native dances, and in turn would fill them with wonder and awe with a photograph, which we had in our car. We found it necessary to put up a telephone line between two buildings that were a little distance apart, which we did using two magnetic sets. One day I found a rather large coconut under a tree near the bamboo hut where we were living, and conceived the idea of making a coconut talk. So I emptied its contents and hung it on the outside of the house opposite the phone, so arranged that we could get messages even without the coconut and drop it into the coconut.

"The natives were so uncivilized that they did not even know the value of money, and, of course, had never heard of a telephone. We frequently had them entertain us with their native dances, and in turn would fill them with wonder and awe with a photograph, which we had in our car. We found it necessary to put up a telephone line between two buildings that were a little distance apart, which we did using two magnetic sets. One day I found a rather large coconut under a tree near the bamboo hut where we were living, and conceived the idea of making a coconut talk. So I emptied its contents and hung it on the outside of the house opposite the phone, so arranged that we could get messages even without the coconut and drop it into the coconut.

An interesting announcement is made in an advertisement that has been inserted in this page by F. J. Brophy, successor to T. W. Dyer.

Mr. Pentland, a collector for the L.I.C., was knocked down yesterday (Thursday), at the corner of Main and Lethbridge Ave., by an auto driven by J. W. Johnston. Fortunately, although receiving a bad shaking, Mr. Pentland sustained no serious injury.

Norman Tippet who went overseas with the regiment from Medicine Hat, has been, been an inmate no less than four hospitals over there, where he has been receiving treatment for an old leg trouble. It is thought that he will probably shortly receive his discharge.

Mrs. Rose of Medicine Hat, vice-president of the Redback Assembly of Alberta, paid an official visit to Gold- en Link Lodge, Bow Island, on Friday last. A fair attendance of members was received, and after the ordinary business was transacted refreshments were served and a pleasant time generally ensued.

A grand concert will be given in the Odellville hall, Bow Island, on Monday, October 12th, by the Foremost Methodist choir, assisted by several artists. The program commences at eight o'clock and the proceeds will go to help the Foremost and Bow Island churches.

The Review is publishing in this issue an appeal from the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta for the support of Bow Island on October 18th in aid of the Red Cross. Although we have received from the Governor-General at Ottawa and the Duchess of Devonshire with regards to the same subject, but unfortunately they are too lengthy a nature for us to find the space. Suffice it to say we hope the different appeals will have here a most hearty response.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Brophy returned to Bow Island last week to again take up their residence in our midst. "We understand they have made arrangements to take over Dyer's general store on Main Street, and as soon as the necessary stock-taking has been completed they expect to have a very important announcement to make.

The Food Problem.

(Prepared by the Educational Department of the Food Controller's Office for the "Bow Island Review.")

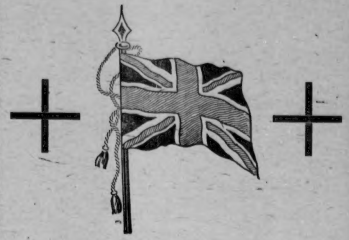

Every Canadian owes it to the Empire to Canada and to himself to undertake the essential facts of the food situation. He should know what the problems are and what efforts are being made to solve them. Food control under present conditions is an attempt to organize the food resources of this Country so as to add most effectively in the conduct of the war. And for the organization of such food resources public opinion must be educated first to the facts and then to a personal application of those facts in the life of the individual.

We have been told that the world food situation is grave and we flinch the matter lightly. We have heard so much about suffering during the past three years that our sympathies are not so easily aroused to the point of sacrifice as they used to be. But do we realize that despite the best efforts that can be exerted by the people of Canada and the United States to conserve needed food supplies, many thousands of people must go hungry and that only what we are willing and able to save may keep them from actual starvation.

There is a great shortage of food in Europe and without importations from America Europe would soon be at the point of starvation. Speaking in the British House of Lords in July of this year, Lord Bledin, the British Food Controller, said: "Four-fifths of our wheat supplies come from overseas; without their supplies we should starve. The Nations of Western Europe allied against Germany during the next twelve months will require no less than 275,000,000 bushels of wheat, even with the exercise of most rigorous economy in its consumption. Canada and the United States have wheat deficit of 400,000,000 bushels in the amount required from North America for the allies and for European neutrals."

The responsibility of ensuring the food supply of Great Britain and our Allies rests peculiarly upon Canada and United States. Because of the shortage of ships only a small part of the grain required can be carried from Australia and other more distant countries. These ships from Canada to American Atlantic ports can be made in the time required for one round trip between Liverpool and Australia. The shipping cannot be diverted if the Allies are to be fed. Here then is the situation: The people of North America must share their food most wisely with the armies and the civilian population of the Allies. Moreover such supplies must be spared for export in the form which is most suitable for transportation across the ocean. The greatest need is for wheat and barley. We must save these foods by substituting perishable products to season and other foods which are not required for export.

It is not enough to say that the normal consumption in Canada of wheat must be reduced by at least one-quarter and that of beef and bacon one-third. The responsibility must be laid upon every man, woman and child in the Dominion. It is not alone the duty of the people of the cities. It is a moral obligation upon you and upon every citizen of Bow Island and (Next page)

Pay Will Be The Same

Men selected under the Military Service Act will receive the same pay as those now on active service receive. Pay will start from the time a man reports for duty. Money from the Patriotic Fund and Separation Allowance will also be available for selected men.

Canadian soldiers are well paid. The fact that wages in Canada are generally higher than those paid in Europe is recognized in the system of remuneration for men on active service. Clothing and all equipment in addition to food is also supplied to the Canadian soldier, leaving him with no expense except personal incidentals.

The rate of pay for men in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, more than commissioned officers, is as follows:

	Pay	Field Allowance
	$2.00	30 cts.
Warrent Officers
Regimental Serg. Major, if not	1.85	20 "
Warrent Officers	1.50	"
Quartermaster-Sergeants	1.50	"
Orderly Room Clerks	1.50	"
Orderly Room Sergeants	1.50	"
Pay Sergeants	1.50	"
Squad, Battalion, or Co. Serg. Major	1.60	"
Squad-Sergeant or Staff-Sergeant	1.50	"
Squad, Battalion, or Co. Q.M.S.	1.50	"
Sergeants	1.35	"
Lance-Sergeants	1.15	"
Corporals	1.10	"
Lance-Corporals	1.05	"
Bombardier, or Second Corporal	1.00	"
Transporter, Baggage, and Drummers	1.00	"
Privates, Cannoneers, Drummers	1.00	"
Sappers, Miners, Etc.	1.00	"

As in the case of those already gone overseas, Separation Allowances will be available for those dependent for livelihood upon selected men. The Separation Allowance is $20.00 per month for the rank and file, $25.00 for sergeants and staff-sergeants and $30.00 for warrant officers. The experience is that many men can afford to assign half their pay to dependents, in addition.

A considerable number of men who have enlisted in the Canadian forces have found themselves better off under the army rate of pay, which is granted in addition to board, lodging, clothing, equipment, transportation, etc., than they were while in civilian positions. Their wants are provided for, and they receive a steady addition to the bank account each month.

The Ruling Factor.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—The situation regarding exemptions to be granted under the Military Service Act has been greatly clarified by the announcement that the decisions of Exemption Boards will be governed by the national interest. This suggests in broad outline the policy that will be followed in dealing with those who are selected for service and desire to remain in the country.

It is plainly in the national interest that certain industries, such as agriculture, mining, fishing, transportation, munition or other war material manufacturing, etc., should be kept in a healthy condition. Instead of being a menace to the stability of these industries, the Military Service Act will help to maintain them in a thriving condition by conserving the labor supply they require. Indirectly, therefore, the Act is expected to prove most beneficial instrument making for the prosperity of the country as a whole.

No industry is exempted altogether. Individuals are exempted in each case must submit to the provisions of the Act the same as others. But, if a man is engaged in work of national importance which cannot be as well done by another the fact will always be borne in mind when the Exemption Board is considering his case. This is the dominant feature of the system. B.A.

Dr. E. R. Sawyer, dentist, of Medicine Hat, will be at Bow Island, on the second and fourth Saturday, in each month for the practice of his profession. Adv't.

The Food Problem.

upon the whole people of the Dominion without exception. If you cannot fight you can at least help to feed the fighting men. The people of Belgium suffered for you; will you not make a small sacrifice for them? France has shed its life blood; will you not eat oatmeal or corn muffins one day in three or four instead of wheat breakfast food or white rolls, in order to feed France? Great Britain is bearing the brunt of the battle for the Empire; will you not forego pastry occasionally in order that the people of Britain may not hunger? Will you not eat substitutes for white bread for the sake of the boys at the front? Will you not save one pound of flour every week? That is the real challenge of food control to you, Remember, if needed food supplies are to be saved, every individual Canadian must see to it that he has less food, bacon and wheat flour every day and eat every meal.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.
